Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. OCEAN CITY, Md., July 28, 1900. some Marylanders and a bunch of District boys occurred today at Berlin, a small town about three miles from Ocean City. A match game of base ball was scheduled, and a train was chartered to bring 300

Washingtonians over to the town to witness the event. The chartered train left Ocean City at 2:05 p.m., and arrived at Berlin at 2:30. The game was called soon after. Much interest was displayed by the enthused Washington people, and long be-of safety. The women who went along with the boys soon changed the rooting cry to real, bona fide tears; some fainted, others screamed, and those who had the proper nerve participated in the stone and shell battle. Many of the boys received cuts and bruises, but none were seriously hurt.

The persuasion and the entreaty of the ladies caused the railroad people to run a special train back to the seaside, just three hours ahead of the schedule time.
Much excitement exists, especially at the

ACTION OF FIRE UNDERWRITERS

AT MEETING TODAY.

ed-Postponement of Increase in Schedule on Mercantile Risks.

A special meeting of the Association of Fire Underwriters of the District was held this afternoon in the rooms of the Washington stock exchange. Two matters of importance called to the attention of the association were the occasion of holding the meeting at this time. One of these is a change in the date of putting in force the reduction in rates in preferred risks. At the last meeting the association adopted the report of the committee appointed to act with the representatives of the middle department in an attempt to adjust the differences that had arisen in insurance circles here, which favored the reduction in the rates on houses from 25 cents on the $100 to rates on houses from 25 cents on the $100 to 15 cents, and the rate on furniture from 40 cents to 25 cents.

As this class of insurance is largely carried by the twelve local companies, it is claimed by the representatives of the foreign companies, who constitute the great bulk of the membership of the association, that in order to give the local companies opportunity to prepare for this great change in their business the new rates should not go into force until the 15th of September. Since that meeting of the association, however, the local companies, with ciation, however, the local companies, with two exceptions, have withdrawn from the association. Now it is agreed, as the local ociation members is to write risks on ouses at 25 cents when they can get them, and at 15 cents when they can't get the

Need Not Precipitate War.

As the former rates will be maintained by he local comanies it is argued by the rep resentatives of the foreign companies that this change need not precipitate a rate war. In fact, they deprecate such a conflict, and it may be said that the discussion of the situation on the part of the agents of outside companies is not nearly as sanguinary as was the case a few weeks ago.

On the part of the local companies preparations are being made to perfect their organization, and, confident of the support and sympathy of the people who control fire insurance business in the District, they propose to continue on the lines already laid down.

Another matter came before the Fire Underwriters' Association that was, if possiderwriters' Association that was, if possi-ble, of still greater interest to representable, of still greater interest to representa-tives of the foreign companies, and that was the increase in the mercantile rates. At the last meeting the association adopted the report of the committee which recom-mended a uniform increase of 20 per cent in the entire schedule. Objection has been made to this course as not being good in-surance, and many of those present at the meeting this afternoon favored the post-poning to some future time the enforcing of the new schedule, and in the interval the association, it is claimed, would be able to association, it is claimed, would be able to appoint a compact agent, who could ad-just all rates of this class according to the

Would Result in Injustice.

It is claimed that while the mercantile rates in some instances are inadequate, in others they are correct, and that, therefore, the proposed uniform advance of 25 per cent would result in anomalies and injus-

On this ground the postponement of the advance in the new rates was advocated. The discussion was in progress when this report closed. It is thought by the reprereport closed. It is thought by the representatives of the agency companies that, with the new preferred rates regarded as minimum and the deferring of the putting in force of the advance in the mercantile rates, the differences between the companies in the association and the local companies in the new association are not sufficient to precipitate a rate war at this time. In fact, some of the agency men say they don't think it will ever be necessary to go to that extreme.

Local Companies' Organization.

There was a conference this morning of the members of the executive committees of the local insurance companies which have recently withdrawn from the Association of Fire Underwriters. The details of the proposed new organization, which is to be formed to take the place of the underwriters' association, were discussed. The workers association, were discussed that the place of the understanding was reached that There was a conference this morning of there would be no change made in the present rates; that they would be neither advanced nor reduced, but that the new organization would proceed to conduct the fire insurance business on the plane of adequate rates. This, it is claimed, will be equitable to both the insured and the insurers, and only the amounts will be paid for insurance which will be adequate for the protection given.

Another meeting will be held, when the name of the association will be chosen and other details of the organization completed. It is stated that several of the large agency companies have expressed the intention of companies have expressed the intention of joining the new organization when it is formed. In that case the membership will not be confined to representatives of the local companies, as at present.

A great deal of this stuff, especially the bacon, is for use of the United States government, large quantities to go to Manila and much to the marines now in China. One of the big packers, in speaking about the advance, said:

"If the demand for corned and roast beef increases during the next two weeks as at has in the last two weeks you will see corned and roast beef selling at $2 per dozen one-pound cans. Why, every packer in Chicago is working his plant to its fullest capacity, and even then cannot begin to meet the demand."

ŏoooooooooooooooooo ROW ON THE DIAMOND. Washingtonians Come Into Collision With Berlin Team.

fore the game was started and the ball tossed, it was an assured fact that there would be trouble. The pretty society girls of the beach were guying the Berliners "to beat the band," which greatly aggravated and tormented the farmer boys. The game started, but before the first hit was made the real battle royal was begun. The players who represented Washington were Frank Benjamin, Thomas A. Green, Ralph Jones, Harry Beard, Bernard Welch William Schaw and Ernest Shayer. After the disturbance began two of the Wash ington boys were arrested, but the constable and the police officer were soon over-powered by the friends of those arrested, and were compelled to retreat to a place of safety. The women who went along with a prominent Washington society lady, was left in a drug store after a fainting spell, and came out just as the swift locomotive went flying past.

The authorities of Berlin telegraphed to

The Chicago Record says: Prices on corned and roast beef have advanced from $1.25 to $1.50 per dozen for one-pound cans. This is the largest advance ever made by Chicago and western packers at one jump.

The cause of the advance is the large demand for these goods by the United States government and foreign powers. When war was declared between the United government and war was declared between the times war was declared between the times States and Spain in April, 1898, the packers States and Spain in April, 1898, the packers are stated in the world had and their agents throughout the world ha 20,000,000 pounds of canned roast and corn ed beef stored. This was disposed of an ed beef stored. This was disposed of, and the packers began to replenish their stocks at their various warehouses.

Before this was completed the British-Boer war drew heavily upon the meats store. England could not get her regular supply from Australia owing to the drought, which had killed off many cattle. Then-before they had time to stock up again the Boyer trouble brought had from Japan and China. Besides this the packers have been compelled to supply Cape Nome and the Klondike with about 2,000,000 pounds of roast and corned beef. This exhausted the stock, and with the heavy demand at present, which they cannot fill, except as they get the live cattle and kill them, forced them to advance the prices so they could protect themselves for future deliveries.

Besides the orders for canned meats the packers state they have large orders for bacon, sausage, short clears, short ribs and all side meats, amounting in all to several million pounds.
